I. OBJECT OF THE BOARD.

1. The object of the Board is to propagate the gospel among unevangelized nations and communities, by means of preachers, teachers, Bible readers, other helpers and the press.

II. MEMBERSHIP.

2. Corporate Members. The Corporate Members of the Board, except the missionaries hereinafter referred to, shall be elected by ballot at the annual meeting. Not less than one-third of these shall be laymen, and not less than one-third clergymen.

3. Apportionment. Each local conference on the roll of the National Council, numbering not less than twelve churches, a majority of which has been reported in the two preceding Year-Books as having contributed to the foreign mission work of the Congregational churches, shall be entitled to be represented by one Corporate Member.

Each State Association, whose delegates are recognized by the National Council, shall be entitled to be represented by one Corporate Member and one additional Corporate Member for each 10,000 members (or major part thereof beyond the first 10,000). In addition to the above, there may be 150 members at large, and this membership at large shall be in addition to the present members who are not allotted as provided in By-law 5, to the first two classes above specified. Any Corporate Member who removes from the conference or the State Association which he represents shall cease to be a member.

Each conference or association entitled to representation as aforesaid shall nominate two persons for each membership to which it is entitled, one of whom shall be a layman.

The term of service of the Corporate Members elected in and after October, 1903, shall be five years.

4. Missionaries. Men holding the commission of the Board as missionaries shall, after seven years of service, and so long as they hold said commission, be Corporate Members.

5. Committee to Nominate New Members. At each annual meeting a Committee on the Nomination of New Members shall be appointed by the President, subject to the approval of the Board. This Committee shall consist of nine, of whom after the first year three shall be appointed annually. The first Committee appointed under this By-law shall be divided by the President into three classes, to serve one, two, and three years, respectively. The Committee shall organize by the choice of a chairman before the close of each annual meeting. The Home Secretary shall be, ex officio, its permanent clerk, without vote. Its duty shall be to keep conferences and associations above referred to informed of their right to representation, to nominate to the annual meeting from the nominees submitted by those bodies the member to which they are entitled, and to nominate suitable persons for the membership at large. It may also from time to time transfer unallotted present members into the class of members at large.

This Committee shall make all necessary rules to carry out the provisions of the By-laws relating to membership, shall allot the existing members so far as possible to the first two classes above referred to, shall notify the members of their allotment, and shall request all members elected prior to October, 1903, to accept the five years' limitation of membership from October, 1904.

6. Duties of Members. Inasmuch as membership in this corporation is not an honor merely, but is a trust which cannot be discharged without labor and sacrifice; therefore, every member shall be considered as pledged to perform its duties, and especially to be a constant attendant at the meetings of the Board, whenever such attendance is possible. Absentees are expected to send to the Recording Secretary letters giving the reasons for their absence.

7. Corresponding Members. Clergymen and laymen residing in foreign lands may be elected by ballot Corresponding Members of the Board, who, although not officially obliged to attend its meetings, yet when present may assist in its deliberations, and may at other times and in other ways promote its objects.

8. Honorary Members. Clergymen on paying fifty dollars, and other persons on paying one hundred dollars, at any one time, shall be entitled to the privilege of attending the meetings of the Board, and of assisting in its deliberations as Honorary Members.

9. Rights of Members. The right of voting is limited by the Act of Incorporation to Corporate Members; but Corresponding and Honorary Members may participate freely in discussions and in service on committees.

10. Certificates. The certificates of membership for Corporate and Corresponding Members shall be signed by the President and Recording Secretary of the Board, and those for Honorary Members by the President and Treasurer.

III. OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

11. Officers. The officers of the Board shall be a President, Vice-President, Recording Secretary, Assistant Recording Secretary; a Prudential Committee consisting of the President and Vice-President, ex officio, and twelve other persons; two Corresponding Secretaries, an Editorial Secretary, one or more Associate Secretaries, a Treasurer, and three Auditors. An Assistant Treasurer may be elected. These officers shall be chosen by ballot annually, except that, beginning with the year 1894, the twelve members of the Prudential Committee shall be elected in three classes of four each: one class to serve three years, one class to serve two years, one class one year; and at the expiration of these several terms members shall be chosen in classes for terms of three years each. No member who has served upon the Committee for three full successive terms of three years each shall be eligible for reëlection till after a year has passed. All officers shall discharge the duties for which they were elected until others are appointed to succeed them, except that the Recording Secretaries shall hold office until the close of the annual meeting at which their successors are chosen.

12. The President. It shall be the duty of the President, and in his absence, of the Vice-President, to preside at each meeting of the Board, and to perform such official acts, either during the session of the Board, or at any other time, as shall be assigned to him by any by-law or vote of the Board. In the absence of both the President and Vice-President, the meeting shall be called to order by the senior member present, and a presiding officer shall be immediately chosen for the session.

13. The Recording Officers. The Recording Secretary shall keep accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and enter the same in a book of records, and certify all such doings of the Board as are to be known only by an inspection of the records. He shall make oath to the faithful performance of his duties. The Assistant Recording Secretary shall render such help as may be needed; and shall become Recording Secretary in case that office shall become vacant during the year.

14. The Prudential Committee. The Prudential Committee may fix the number of its own quorum for the transaction of business. Notices of all meetings shall be given to each member in such manner as the Committee shall direct by a general rule. It shall be the duty of the Corresponding Secretaries and Treasurer, although not members, to attend its meetings and assist in its deliberations.

The Committee shall appoint a clerk, who shall keep a full record of its doings, and sign all its official acts. The records above described shall be always open to the inspection of the Board.

It shall be the duty of the Prudential Committee to carry into effect all resolutions and orders of the Board, the execution of which shall not have been assigned to some other committee; to receive and act upon any matter submitted to the Committee by the Treasurer or either of the Corresponding Secretaries; to cause the more inviting fields for missionary enterprise to be explored; to appoint the places where missions shall be attempted, and to determine the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and to superintend them; to appoint, instruct, and direct all the missionaries of the Board; to prescribe where the Treasurer shall deposit the moneys of the Board, and the times and modes of investments and remittances; to authorize the payment of moneys from the treasury; to ascertain the state of the treasury at least twice a year, and as much oftener as they see cause; to appoint business agents and other agents at home and abroad, with such powers and duties as they may think are demanded by the best interests of missions; and generally, to perform all duties necessary, in their opinion, to promote the objects of the Board; provided the same shall not be contrary to any resolution or by-law of the Board, nor to the Act of Incorporation. They shall annually elect a chairman, who shall keep the bond of the Treasurer.

For the purpose of bringing the whole annual report of the Prudential Committee under the distinct consideration of the Board, previous to its acceptance, it shall be prepared in such a form that on presenting it to the Board the several leading parts of it may be referred to different committees. The Prudential Committee shall also cause to be printed, in connection with their annual report, an abstract of the Treasurer's accounts, and such other documents as they judge proper to be included in that publication.

15. Corresponding Secretaries. The Corresponding Secretaries shall act for the Board in conducting its written correspondence, both foreign and domestic, except what relates immediately to the Treasurer's department, and they shall supervise official publications of the Board; dividing their duties between the foreign and the home department, under the advice and with the concurrence of the Prudential Committee.

The Secretary to whom, at any time, is assigned the foreign department shall have the immediate charge and supervision of the foreign field; shall keep the Prudential Committee informed of the condition and needs of the several missions; shall present to the Committee, for its consideration and approval, careful statements of all business relating to the work under his care, and when any missionary or assistant missionary under appointment desires a personal interview with the Prudential Committee shall present to that Committee his request. He shall also perform such other duties as the Board or the Prudential Committee shall direct.

The Secretary to whom, at any time, the home department is assigned shall endeavor to promote a missionary spirit at home, and to secure, from the churches and the friends of missions, the missionaries and means required for the support and constant enlargement of the work abroad, in order to a speedy promulgation of the gospel throughout the world. He shall present to the Prudential Committee the names of all persons making written application for appointment to missionary service, and such information as, in accordance with the by-laws and other instructions of the Board, he has obtained in regard to their qualifications for such appointment; and, when any candidate desires a personal interview with the Prudential Committee, shall present to that Committee his request. He shall also perform such other duties as the Board or the Prudential Committee shall direct.

All applications for appointment to missionary service shall be addressed to the Corresponding Secretaries of the Board. In all cases the communications received by the Secretaries shall forthwith, without further correspondence on doctrinal matters, be presented to the Prudential Committee. In case the Committee desires further scrutiny into the theological opinions of the candidate, they may address to him such supplementary questions as appear to them important, and if further light shall be needed this shall be had through an interview with the Committee as a body, or in case this, in any special instance, is not practicable, with a sub-committee appointed by them from their own number, consisting, in part, of laymen. At such theological examination by the Committee or sub-committee the doors shall be open for the presence of any members of the Board, or personal friends of the candidate.

The duties of the Editorial Secretary shall be to prepare and edit such publications of the Board as shall be assigned to him.

16. The Treasurer. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to take the charge of all moneys paid into the treasury of the Board, and to give receipts therefor; to keep safely all the funds and moneys of the Board, and all notes, bonds, deeds, and other evidences of property; to keep fair and accurate accounts of all moneys received and expended; to make out annually a statement of receipts and payments, and of the condition of the several permanent funds, for the information of the Board; to invest and deposit moneys, and make remittances and payments, according to the direction of the Board or of the Prudential Committee; to exhibit his books, accounts, vouchers, and evidences of property, whenever required, to the Board, the Prudential Committee, or the Auditors; to conduct the correspondence relating immediately to his department, and perform such other acts as are necessary to the faithful execution of the duties of his office. He shall give bonds therefor in such sum as the Prudential Committee shall determine. In case of the inability of the Treasurer, or a vacancy in the office, the Assistant Treasurer shall perform the duties of the Treasurer, giving such bonds as the Prudential Committee may require.

17. The Auditors. It shall be the duty of the Auditors to examine the books of the Treasurer, thoroughly and particularly, at least once a year; and if they shall find the accounts correctly kept and accurately cast, the payments well vouched, the balance satisfactorily stated and accounted for, and the evidences of property duly exhibited, to give their certificate accordingly; which certificate they shall enter at large in the Treasurer's books, and deposit a duplicate thereof with the Recording Secretary, to be by him entered in his book of records. They shall have authority at any time to employ an expert in the particular examination of the accounts.

18. District Secretaries and Librarian. There shall be appointed by the Prudential Committee a Librarian, who shall have charge of the library and cabinet. There shall also be such other persons appointed by the Prudential Committee, as it shall deem expedient, to act in particular districts of country as District Secretaries or General Agents; whose duty it shall be, within their respective fields, to coöperate with the pastors of churches, with ecclesiastical bodies, with the Corresponding Secretaries, and the Auxiliaries of the Board, and with the other friends of missions, in promoting a missionary spirit and in drawing out the resources of the Christian community for the vigorous prosecution of the work. These shall be ex officio Honorary Members of the Board.

IV. MEETINGS OF THE BOARD.

19. Annual Date. The annual meeting of the Board shall begin on the second Tuesday of October at three o'clock in the afternoon, unless the Board shall have otherwise ordered.

20. Power to Change. If, in the opinion of the Prudential Committee, it shall at any time be highly inexpedient to meet at the place or the time appointed for any annual meeting, the Prudential Committee is authorized to appoint some other time or place for such meeting, by publishing a notice of such change in such religious and secular newspapers as it may deem expedient, and sending a notice to each Corporate Member of the Board.

21. Opening the Session. The first, and each subsequent, session shall be opened with prayer and such other devotional services as the presiding officer shall think proper.

22. Reading of Records. The business of the annual meeting shall begin with the reading of the material parts of the journal of the annual meeting next preceding, and of any intervening special meeting; and at the opening of every morning session the journal of the preceding day shall be read in full.

23. Appointment of Committees. During the first session of every annual meeting the President shall appoint subject, except as to the Committee of Nominations, to the approval of the Board:

(1) A Committee of Arrangements for the meeting.

(2) A Business Committee, to which shall be referred, without debate, all propositions submitted to the Board, excepting such as are contained in reports duly made, or motions growing out of such reports. Upon the appointment of the Business Committee, the time and place of the meetings of said Committee, on each day, shall be announced, and during the successive morning sessions the said Committee shall be called upon to make any report which it may desire to offer.

(3) A Committee of Nomination, consisting of five persons, whose duty it shall be to nominate the following committees; namely: (a) on the Treasurer's Report of the next following year, to each member of which Committee an early copy of that report shall be sent by the Treasurer; (b) on the different parts of the Prudential Committee's Report; (c) on the Place and Preacher (with alternate) for the next Meeting; and (d) on Officers of the Board; said Committee of Nomination to make its report before or at the close of the next business session, submitting its nominations for approval or rejection by the Board.

All other committees shall be appointed by the President subject to the approval of the Board.

24. Annual Sermon. There shall be an annual sermon preached before the Board by some person or alternate appointed the preceding year. Should both be prevented from preaching, the Prudential Committee is authorized to procure a preacher. The alternate not called upon to preach shall be first on the list of candidates at the succeeding anniversary.

25. The Lord's Supper. At each annual meeting, unless peculiar circumstances should render it inexpedient, the Board will unite with their fellow Christians in the celebration of the Lord's Supper.

26. Special Meetings. It shall be the duty of the President, or, in case of his death or disability, of the Vice-President, to cause a special meeting to be called, through the Recording Secretary or one of the Corresponding Secretaries, on the written application of the Prudential Committee or any twenty-five Corporate Members of the Board. The time and place for holding the meeting shall be such as the officer who calls such special meeting shall appoint. On receiving an application as above described, the officer to whom the same is directed shall cause a seasonable notice of the time and place of meeting to be sent to each member, and also cause a notice of the same to be published in such religious and secular newspapers as he may deem expedient.

27. Adjourned Meetings. In the case of an adjourned meeting the Recording Secretary shall give suitable notice as provided for a special meeting.

28. Quorum. The number of Corporate Members necessary for transacting business at any meeting of the Board shall be thirty.

V. RULES OF ORDER.

29. The President shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Board, and he may speak on such questions in preference to other members.

30. The President shall declare all votes ; but if the correctness of his decision shall be questioned, he shall order a count of the persons voting, who shall rise for the purpose.

31. In case any person shall feel aggrieved by the refusal of the Business Committee to report on a matter referred to it, he shall be entitled to move that the Committee be instructed to report.

32. When a Committee to whom any matter may have been referred shall recommend any specific action to the Board (other than an order to print the Prudential Committee's Report), or shall desire the Board to approve or adopt the sentiments or statements of such report, such proposed action shall always be embodied in resolutions. Upon all reports the question will be, Shall the report of your Committee be accepted? which, if carried, receives the report from the Committee. The question shall then be, Shall the resolutions recommended by the Committee be adopted? If no resolutions are appended, the report, after acceptance, will be placed on file.

33. When a question is under debate the President shall receive motions only to adjourn, to lay on the table, to postpone to a time certain, to commit, to amend, or to postpone indefinitely, which several motions shall have precedence in the foregoing order.
